Video Release Form and Non-Disclosure Agreement

Please read this page carefully.

Tologix Expert Systems Inc., (hereinafter referred to as "ISLG"), is asking you to partake in a one-hour testing session. By participating in this evaluation, you will help improve the investorstatelawguide.com application.

During the evaluation session, ISLG and Industrial Media Inc., (ISLG's third party UX research and design subcontractor – hereinafter referred to as "Industrial"), will observe you and record information as they engage in discussion to solicit your feedback. At the end of the session, ISLG and Industrial will ask you to complete a desirability exercise and answer questions.

ISLG and Industrial will audio and screen record the evaluation session. By signing this form, you give your consent to ISLG and Industrial to use your voice, verbal statements, and screen recording for the purposes of evaluating the service and sharing the results of the evaluation internally and to primary stakeholders. ISLG and Industrial will not share your personal information – such as name, address or phone number. Your voice, verbal statements and screen recording will not be shared publicly.

Any information you acquire about the investorstatelawguide.com application during the evaluation session is confidential and proprietary, and is disclosed to you only for the purpose of participating in the evaluation. By signing this form, you agree not to disclose any information relevant to the investorstatelawguide.com application acquired during the evaluation session to any third party without the express written consent of ISLG.

If you agree with these terms, please indicate your agreement by signing below:
